

HOUSING AND RESIDENCE LIFE POLICIES AND EXPECTATIONS GUIDE

COMMUNITY ACCOUNTABILITY

The following policies reflect the values of the Housing and Residence Life Office (herein referred to as housing) and were established to uphold our mission of creating a community that is conducive to living and learning. As a member of the residence hall community, it is your responsibility to familiarize yourself with these policies and to abide by them.

These policies apply to all residents and their guests when they are in or on the residence hall property and are enforceable while participating in housing sponsored activities on or off campus.

Housing's commitment to developing good citizenship does not end at the boundaries of the residence hall. Residence hall students serve as ambassadors of our institution. Any alleged violation of housing or college policies may result in follow-up through the housing student discipline process or the college's student discipline process, the results of which may jeopardize your housing agreement and/or status as a student at the college; may result in disciplinary sanctions; or may be subject to legal action.

Your rights as a resident include:

- The right to study and sleep in your room free from undue interference.
- The right to expect that your roommate and other residents will respect your personal belongings.
- The right to be free from intimidation, physical, and emotional harm.

Your responsibilities as a resident include:

- Demonstrating respect for all members of the community and yourself.
- Examining your own behavior when confronted by another and to work toward resolving conflicts amiably.
- Compliance with the policies outlined in this document.

POINT SYSTEM

The National Park College Office of Residence Life transitioned student conduct to a points-based system as a means of responding to most Residence Life policies.

The point system was developed to make the disciplinary sanctioning process clearer, more consistent, and more predictable for students in on-campus student housing. Under the point system, a student found responsible for violating Housing policy will be assigned points and given an appropriate sanction. Should a resident not complete a sanction in the stated time frame, a hold will be placed on their student account until the sanction is complete.

POINT ASSESSMENT

The assessment of points and/or other sanctions will follow the conclusion of an administrative or judicial hearing process, in which a student is found responsible for alleged violation of Housing policies. Points are cumulative over the course of a student's time in on-campus student housing. Previous violations are always considered before points and/or sanctions are assigned for violations. Higher point values may be assigned to repeat or more significant offenses.

If through one incident or a series of incidents, a student accumulates a minimum of:

- 4 points, the student will be placed on a status of Disciplinary Warning in addition to any other assigned sanctions. The student's parent(s) or guardian may be notified.
- 8 points, the student will be placed on a status of Disciplinary Probation in addition to any other assigned sanctions. The student's parent(s) or guardian may be notified.
- 12 or more points, the student may be suspended from on-campus student housing. The student's parent(s) or guardian may be notified.

HOUSING AND RESIDENCE LIFE ALCOHOL, MARIJUANA AND OTHER DRUGS POLICY

NOTE: Some individual policies and expectations may include a specific breakdown of violations that may seem repetitive. This is done to indicate levels of severity in conduct records.

College and Housing policy states that regardless of age no alcohol or marijuana may be consumed or possessed in the Hall.

VIOLATIONS OF THE ALCOHOL POLICY

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, consumption, or use of alcoholic beverages (including, but not limited to, fermented malt beverages, intoxicating liquors, etc.) is not permitted on the college campus and in all college facilities.

UNLAWFUL BEHAVIOR OR MISCONDUCT

Intoxication and/or abuse of alcoholic beverages, marijuana, or other drugs is not permissible as an excuse for other unlawful behavior or misconduct

Acutely intoxicated students will not be left in the care of other students, including Housing staff. Students will be referred to appropriate health care professionals and/or law enforcement.

VIOLATIONS OF THE MARIJUANA AND OTHER DRUGS POLICY

Interim Restrictions or Removal

The Community Manager or designee in consultation with appropriate NPC leadership may defer procedural due process and enforce an interim restriction or removal from the residence hall. Should this occur, this action will be taken to:

- Ensure the safety and well-being of members of the residence hall community
- Preserve College property
- Ensure a resident's own physical or emotional safety and wellbeing
- Ensure that the resident does not pose an ongoing threat or significant disruption within the residence hall or College.

Interim restriction or removal is effective upon informing the resident. Any resident who has had interim action taken against them will be afforded a student accountability meeting as soon as practical. Residents removed or restricted on an interim basis will be given an opportunity to appear before the Dean of Students within five business days from the notice of the effective date for the interim removal or restriction to discuss only:

- Reliability of the information concerning the alleged conduct
- Matter of identity
- Whether the conduct and surrounding circumstances reasonably indicate that their continued presence in the hall poses a substantial threat to themselves or others and continuance of normal college or residence hall functions

Unless otherwise determined by the Community Manager or designee, in consultation with appropriate NPC executive leadership, the interim restriction or removal shall remain in effect until a student accountability hearing is held and an outcome is determined. If a resident is found not responsible at the end of the student accountability process, they will be readmitted to the hall and may be entitled to a refund for the time they were removed. Any refunds for the time out of the hall are not automatic and shall be reviewed on a case-by-case basis once a student has submitted a housing charge appeal.

Noise is any sound, human, or otherwise, which is disturbing to any resident. To reduce the amount of noise in the building, specified quiet and courtesy hours are established.

A student witnessing any act that constitutes a violation of college or housing policy is expected to report such incidents to the proper authorities. Any student who is believed, more likely than not, to have assisted in violating any college or housing policy may be charged with a policy violation to the same extent as those persons directly committing a violation.

2. Decorations: The use of any decorative items resulting in any damage to the residence hall will incur appropriate damage fee charges. Residents may decorate common areas after receiving prior approval from the Community Manager. Crafting projects with the potential to be messy are not allowed in or around the residence hall without advance coordination with the Community Manager. Residents may use decorative holiday lights in common areas with the coordination and approval of the Community Manager. All lights must be UL-listed.

4. Events: Loud, unruly, or alcohol-related events are not permitted in housing unless planned by housing staff for educational purposes. Perishable food items should be stored in sealed containers and/or refrigerated. Trash and food debris should be disposed of in the designated trash location.

8. Room Entry: Although Residence Life will make reasonable efforts to respect the privacy of a student's personal suite, Residence Life reserves the right to enter with prior notice if possible, for purposes of inspection, verification of occupancy, improvements, or repair. Residence Life reserves the right of entry without notice in situations posing a threat to life or property, violation of policy and for such purposes as are reasonably necessary to preserve resident and community safety. Lost keys should be reported immediately to the appropriate housing staff member. In each case in which keys are lost, new keys are issued, and the student charged.

  - Students who wish to bring a service animal to NPC are covered by Title II of the ADA, and thus students may bring their service animals to campus – including Residential Life Facilities, classrooms, and other College facilities – without prior approval. However, students are required to reach out to the Disability Services Office on campus to ensure that their experience bringing the animal to campus is smooth. Additionally, students are also required to inform Residential Life that they plan to have a service animal living with them. Advance notice of a service animal for Residential Life Facilities may allow more flexibility in meeting a student's needs
  - Students who wish to bring an emotional support/assistance animal into the residence hall as an exception to the pet policy must go through the reasonable accommodation process with the Disability Services Office. The Disabilities Service Office is responsible for evaluating whether to grant or deny requests for reasonable accommodations for students living in the Residence Hall including the ability to bring an Assistance Animal or Emotional Support Animal. Residents wishing to request an Assistance Animal as an accommodation MUST follow the Disability Services Office general procedures for requesting an accommodation. This request should be submitted, and the approval process completed prior to bringing the animal into the hall. For more information, contact the Disability Services Office at (501) 760-4227 or email rhendrix2@np.edu.

18. Trespassing: Unauthorized presence in buildings, rooms, or restricted areas is not permitted.

19. Guest Visitation: Housing exists for students who are assigned to and pay for living accommodations. Students may not arbitrarily make their assigned housing available to anyone else at any time. It is a privilege not a right for a guest to be in housing. Authorized college, housing staff or representative acting on behalf both entities, (including local law enforcement and campus security officials) may request that a guest leave at any time if the guest's behavior is inappropriate, in conflict with community expectations and housing, or college policies. During special occasions, limitations and/or restrictions on the guest visitation policy may be implemented for safety and building concerns.

- A guest is defined as any person who does not live in a specific suite/room, including family members, parents or residents who live within the building.
- An overnight guest is defined as any person not assigned to a room/suite and stays more than six hours and/or sleeps in the room/suite.
- Violations may lead to a student accountability meeting. Residents are responsible for and will be held accountable for the behavior of their guests.
- Residents must inform their guests of policies and procedures for Dogwood Hall and National Park College.
- A guest can be denied permission to remain in the building or may be prohibited from future visits if they create a disturbance or violate any policies.
- A guest can stay overnight no more than four (4) nights in a month, with (2) nights being consecutively.
- Guests are not permitted to extend their visitation time via switching hosts within the building. All occupants of the suite must agree about whom, when and the number of visitors are allowed at one time. Violations of this policy may result to a student accountability meeting and appropriate sanctions.
- Guest Plans: Room/Suitemate's specific guest plans should be outlined by residents in the side-by-side agreements. With these plans, the shared concerns and wishes of everyone are of paramount importance in determining what is acceptable or unacceptable regarding hosting a guest.
  - Side-by-Side agreements are to be completed by all occupants of the suite at the start of their move-in date. The agreement outlines specific living arrangements and considerations for living in a shared space. Violations of the agreement should be reported to the RA for mediation and further documentation. Violating the terms of the agreement could result in a student accountability meeting and may be considered violation of residence hall policies.
- Having a guest is a privilege that is secondary to a room/suitemate right to privacy. Residents may not exercise their guest privilege if doing so interferes with the rights of their room/suitemates or other residents of the building. Suspension of guest privileges for an individual, a floor, or an entire residence hall may be issued by Residence Life with just cause.
- Minors are permitted to visit the residence hall, but to promote their safety and provide privacy for other residents the following restrictions must apply:
  - Non-residents under the age of 18 are not permitted to stay overnight.
  - Minors must never be left unattended for any period.
  - Residents who have minors visiting that disturb other residents may be asked to remove them from the hall.
  - Residents may not provide babysitting service in the hall. National Park College and Residence Life cannot assume responsibility or liability for minors visiting the residence hall.

  - Being restricted from entering the hall for previous conduct or other reasons.
  - Not being enrolled in good standing with National Park College.
  - Not having a signed house license on file with Residence Life.

- Cohabitation includes but is not limited to.
  - Guests that violate the overnight guest policy.
  - Living within the hall and not having a residence hall license agreement.
  - Keeping personal possessions (books, clothes, toothbrush etc.) in the room as if one lived in the room/suite.
  - Accessing the room or suite while the assigned occupants are not present

Equipment and vehicles that use combustible fuels are also not permitted in or near the building. For example, motor bikes, scooters, motorcycles, and gasoline-powered equipment must be kept a safe distance outside of housing areas
12. Missing Student Policy: A student may be a "missing student" if the student's absence is contrary to his/her usual pattern of behavior and unusual circumstances may have caused the absence. Such circumstances could include, but not be limited to, a report or suspicion that the missing person may be the victim of foul play, has expressed suicidal thoughts, is drug dependent, is in a life-threatening situation, or has been with persons who may endanger the student's welfare.
- Upon application, each student in housing is required to provide emergency contact information. If the resident is under 18 years old, they must provide the contact information for their parent or legal guardian. This information will be used in the event the student is determined to be missing.
  - Students may update this information by contacting the Office of Residence Life.
